Let's have a sane Fourth.

A Graves county jury had four jurors on it named Hargroves.

Wood F. Axton is a Republican candidate for Mayor of Louisville.

Admiral Dewey says he favors a fleet "second only to that of Great Britain."

A French city is trying the experiment of an outcome tax by placing a license on baby buggies.

Mrs. Dotson was sent to jail five days for killing a barber. Maybe the barber had shaved the jurors.

Eight tramps beating their way on a freight train were killed at Clinton, Iowa, when two freight trains collided.

It will be noticed that the Queen of Spain is too busy otherwise to pay any attention to the female suffrage movement.

Adolphus Busch III, of St. Louis, aged 22, has just married a grass widow 31 years old with three incumbrances.

Mrs. B. B. Bates, of Centerville, Tenn., tried an axe on her hard-headed husband and found that it could be split open.

Clarksburg, Ind., is boasting of the smallest living baby, weighing only 1 1/2 pounds at birth. Mrs. Cicero Ryan is the mother.

Kentucky is overchecked in bank several hundred thousand dollars, but Tennessee is on a wild hunt for somebody to lend her $12,000,000 by July 1.

Judge Henry C. Jones, ninety-four years old, the last surviving member of the Confederate Congress, died Saturday at the residence of his son in Florence, Ala.

Father Eugene Spiess, who introduced Owsley Stanley at Owensboro, referred to him as "The Winthorst of our American Reichstag, the Demosthenes of Kentucky."

The war department has withdrawn federal support from the South Carolina militia because of the declaration of Gov. Bleasdale that he would do what he pleased regardless of the federal authorities.

Mrs. Barbara Dogg has just died in Atlanta leaving a large fortune and Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, the President of the international suffragettes, is in Hungary making a loud noise.

The Court of Appeals has declined in the case sent up to decide whether women may vote for county school Superintendent in the August primary and the question will have to be passed upon by the precinct election officers.

Peter Hicks, of Paterson, N. Y., was deserted by his wife and went to work in a powder factory, praying that he might be blown up. His prayer was answered and when he got out of the hospital he had developed a desire to live.

Mrs. David Grant's two boys went to bed together at Beach, North Dakota, and soon after each complained to the mother that his brother was pinching him. Next morning she found the boys dead with a rattlesnake coiled up between them.

President Wilson has signed the sundry civil appropriation bill, with a statement declaring that he would have vetoed it, if he could, the provision in it exempting labor unions and farmers' organizations from prosecution under a certain $300,000 fund designated for operation of the Sherman anti-trust law. The President characterized the exemption as "unjustifiable in character and principle," but called attention to the fact that the department of justice possessed other funds with which to enforce the anti-trust law.

12 SQUARES OF STREETS

Can Be Built With the City's Appropriation of $7500.

ABOUT 9,000 YARDS OR MORE

Council May Use Old Stone in Cemetery and Build Four More Squares.

City Engineer Moore has made an estimate of how much territory the appropriation of $7,500 made by the Council for new streets will cover. After paying for about 1,000 yards of intersections to cost $1,500, the city will have $6,000 left to pay one half of the $12,000, which will construct 8,000 yards. The contract, therefore will cover 9,000 instead of 8,000 yards as before stated. The survey of the streets shows that after eight blocks have been provided for on Sixth, Seventh and Virginia streets, there will be enough left to extend the bitulithic street to Sixteenth, on South Main. This is within 1800 yards of the entire amount on South Main covered by the ordinance. The city's half would be $1350 and enough stone will be removed from the streets improved to make up this amount, by using the old stone on streets upon which appropriations for metalizing have been made. There is also an urgent demand for two blocks on Water street, from which much dust is blown into the business section. The Elks are anxious to have it alongside their Home and the I. C. Railroad's property should be given the same character as street the L. & N. Railroad has alongside its depot. These blocks contain about 1350 yards. These could be put down for $2,000, the city's part being $1,000. Figuring in the old stone as an asset, the city can pay for the three additional blocks with an additional appropriation of about $2,000 and past the appropriator $2,500 for cemetery improvements may be transferred to the street fund and the old stone taken from the streets used to improve the driveways in the cemetery. As the cemetery has a growing fund of its own, this would make the "axe cut both ways."

DOBSON-WALKER

St. Louis Traveling Man Weds Pretty Hopkinsville Girl.

Mr. Lucian Pendleton Dobson, of St. Louis, and Miss Laura Walker were married Tuesday morning at nine o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Lula Gary Walker, near the city. The officiating minister was Rev. H. E. Gabby and it was a quiet home wedding. After a bridal tour to the lake cities, they will reside at Cape Girardeau, Mo. The bride is a daughter of the late J. B. Walker. She possesses unusual beauty and is a charming girl. The groom is a traveling salesman for a St. Louis tobacco company.

Lafayette Couple.

James W. Winn and Miss Allie Gilbert, of near Lafayette, were married in Clarksville Monday night.

Coming Soon.

The family of Col. O. G. Sprouse will arrive here shortly to make their home. Col. Sprouse has rented Mr. W. B. Kennedy's residence, 1113 South Walnut street. He is now in Indiana putting on a big sale and as soon as he can will move his family from Springfield, Tenn.

Never Kiss and Tell.

When women vote, candidates will not confine their kissing to babies.—Harry Sommers.

NO REDUCTION

In Price of Coal Expected By Local Dealers.

In a conversation with one of the local coal dealers yesterday we learned that consumers may about as well make up their minds to pay the same price for coal the coming winter as last.

It will be remembered that some time ago the Hopkinsville Business Men's Association appointed a committee to go before the State Railroad Commission and plead for a reduction of freight rates from the mines to this point. The committee did everything in its power and at one time was quite hopeful that their mission would be fruitful and that a reduction of about 2 cents on the bushel would be secured. The coal dealer said that Nashville had already secured a lower rate, but there seem to be but little hope for a reduction here very soon. There is a hitch somewhere, but he does not know where it is. Somebody must get busy.

OPEN-AIR CONCERTS

Why Not Put Them On Again This Summer.

Why should not our people have open-air concerts this summer? The free evening concerts in Louisville begin tonight.

Hopkinsville has a band that is equal to any in Louisville and our citizens had rare musical treats all of last week and no doubt would enjoy the concerts to the fullest. The band stand at Virginia Park is nearing completion and will be ready for the concerts by the time arrangements are perfected. All that is needed now is for somebody to take the initiative. The stores are all closed at an early hour and the salespeople will want something in the way of recreation, and where is there a better place to find it than at Virginia Park?

COMMUNION

At The First Presbyterian Church Sunday.

After the morning service at the First Presbyterian church next Sunday morning the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered by the Rev. Charles Nourse. Mr. Nourse will also preach at night at 8 o'clock. Everybody invited to both services.

Circle Meeting.

The fourth circle meeting will be held with the Baptist church, beginning Friday night before the fifth Sunday in June, with the following program:

1. Sermon for criticism, Friday night 7:30.
2. Importance of giving Baptist principles to the world.—W. R. Goodman.
3. Christian culpability in the desecration of the Sabbath.—T. T. Powell.
4. The origin of and scriptural authority for a Latterday saints' church.—C. M. Thompson.
5. What are the wages and fruitage of intemperance?—T. C. Lyle.
6. Is the church in the world or the world in the church. If not why not?—W. R. Goodman.
7. How far can Baptists affiliate with other denominations?—C. M. Thompson.

Crofton, Ky.

Children Must Not Work.

Attorney General Garnett has rendered an opinion to the effect that under no circumstances are labor inspectors throughout the state permitted to issue permits for children under 14 years old to work. Commissioner Newnam, in response to many appeals for the privilege of permitting children to work during vacation, asked Attorney General Garnett to construe the law.

Fletcher Campbell, of Louisville, came down Saturday to spend a few days with friends.

GILBERT HOOKS IS KILLED

Colored Politician of Casky Precinct Slain By Brother-in-law.

RESULTS OF A PISTOL DUEL

Antagonist Is Also Wounded In Two Places, Perhaps Fatally.

In a pistol duel several miles east of the city Tuesday evening Gilbert Hooks, a negro politician, was shot and killed by Will Thomas, his brother-in-law. Both were middle aged and the fathers of large families.

They fell out over $10 that Hooks had loaned Thomas, the latter claiming that the amount was only $5. Details are meager, but when the smoke of battle cleared away, Hooks was dying, shot through the bowels and Thomas had pistol wounds on his head and in one leg. His injuries may prove fatal.

Hooks was the most prominent negro in his district and his funeral yesterday depopulated the farms of the Casky neighborhood on one of the busiest days of the farming season. Thomas is not able to be arrested.

THE DRYS

Of Clarksville Are Having a Warm Time With The Wets.

An attempt to solve the question "Does prohibition prohibit?" is creating a big stir in Clarksville and both sides have taken a most decided stand. The first of the week a meeting of the drys was held and a committee was appointed to wait upon the Circuit Judge and the Mayor and learn their position as to enforcing the law. Judge Tyler informed the committee that he would make no promises as to what he would do in the future and that he did not believe it was "proper and right to collect money from men as license to sell whisky and then indict them in the courts." The Mayor was not heard from. Another meeting will be held Monday.

NEW WHEAT

Opens at 80c On the Local Market.

New wheat opened at 80 cents on the local market. Threshing is on in earnest over the county and reports are that the crop is turning out well. The grain is of fine quality, grading No. 2. Considerable wheat has already been delivered and by the last of the week the usual rush is expected to begin.

Miss Winfree Entertained.

Tuesday night, at her home on East Thirteenth street, Miss Dovie Winfree entertained in honor of Miss Hattie Albright, who is visiting Miss Marguerite Lawson. Among those present were the Misses Bruff, Miss Holloman and Miss Lawson. Miss Albright's home is near Summerville, Tenn., and her father is Secretary of the Tennessee State Board of Health.

Worked Three Days.

Arch Steffy, 18, fell from an electric pole and was instantly killed at Henderson. He had been in the employ of the Municipal Electric Light plant only three days. He was a son of Clay Steffy, an engineer.

Two Fined.

Eugene Travis and S. R. Emmett were arrested Tuesday for drunkenness and fined $5 each in police court yesterday morning. The fines were not paid.

K. P. CARNIVAL

Begins Monday, July 7, Here One Week.

The Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, have contracted with the Whitney Shows for a week's engagement, beginning Monday, July 7th.

The committee who will have the management of the attractions, so far as the K. P.'s are interested, is composed of J. W. Stowe, C. E. Harris, A. M. Coleman and Paul Winn.

The Whitney Shows are all high class attractions of the carnival type and are said to be clean and worthy of patronage. The pay attractions are numerous and the free show is a thriller.

The shows will be on the lot of R. E. Cooper corner of West 15th and Canton streets.

BANKERS BUNCHED

Groups One and Two in Session at Dawson.

The annual meeting groups 1 and 2 of the Kentucky Bankers' Association met at Dawson last Wednesday and will adjourn this afternoon. W. T. Tandy, of the City Bank, and A. H. Eckles, of the Planters' Bank and Trust Company, were in attendance.

CIRCUIT COURT DOCKET

Pretty Well Cleaned Up and Court May Adjourn Today.

The docket for the present term of Circuit Court has been pretty well disposed of and the indications are that Judge Hanbery will adjourn his court this morning or afternoon. No cases of general interest were up for disposition yesterday.

The attorneys of W. T. Tandy submitted a motion, without argument, for a new trial of Tandy against the city of Hopkinsville. The motion was overruled. Mr. Tandy brought suit to recover $10,000 for destruction of a warehouse by night riders, the jury finding for the defendant.

The attorneys for the Illinois Central railroad, in the case of Lackey Steele against the railroad for damages, in which the jury awarded Steele $2,500, made a motion for a new trial, which was overruled.

Kentucky Names.

So constantly has the funny man of the New York Sun harped on the Kentucky nomenclature that he induced the National Magazine to give a list of some names in Bluegrass politics which it considers funny. Here are a few of them: "Ollie James, Augustus Owsley Stanley, Swager Sherley (which, they said, sounds like a country estate) Campbell Cantrill, Harvey Helm, South Trimble, Bunk Gardner, Rom Salmon, Ruby Luffoon, Percy Haly, Cripps Beckham, Judge Bugg, Wood Axton, Gus Dugan Radcliff (discovered by Ben Johnson), Lawson Reno, Winco Wiseman, Orie Lebus, Tandy Ellis and David Highbaugh Smith." To this list might be added Mott Ayers, Clem Huggins, Jack Chinn, Abe Renick, Allie Young and others too numerous to mention.

Persistent Preacher.

At Yonkers, N. Y., Rev. Dr. Byron Holley, Rector of St George's Church, New Orleans, has just announced his engagement to Mrs. Elizabeth Sanborn Knapp.

She and Dr. Holley were sweethearts in Rochester, N. Y., 40 years ago, when a misunderstanding interrupted their plans to wed.

On Henderson Dam.

Work has begun on the coffer dam on the Kentucky side at dam 48 and about 75 laborers are employed at this work. The contracting company expect to finish it this year. A large number of men are employed on the Indiana side, where the cofferdam was completed last winter.

Bryan is Pleased.

Bryan Is Pleased.

Secretary Bryan has endorsed the Glass currency bill in the following strong terms:

"The plan which the President now urges confers great advantages upon the banks while it preserves to the people, acting through the government, all that is essential for the protection of the public. The notes are to be treasury notes issued by the government and loaned to the regional reserve banks. This is in harmony with the Democratic contention. There is no surrender of the government's right to issue money. The board of control is appointed by the President. Thus, the people, acting through the government, are in entire control. This is necessary for the protection of the public's interest and ought not to be objectionable to the banks. The duties of this central board are so important that they could not, with justice to the public, be committed to men representing private interests.

The regional reserve banks are to represent, not only national banks of the district, but such state banks as are willing to put themselves upon a footing which will be equitable to the national banks.

The great point of advantage to the banks, an advantage that ought to make them willing to accept the bill without question, is that it furnishes a currency which they can secure in time of need, without having to put up bonds as security.

The bond requirement largely neutralizes the advantage of the money issued on them, as security, because the banks cannot draw back more from the government than they have already invested in bonds, but where a bank can put up its good assets it is able at all times, without sacrifice, to secure any additional circulation that the community made need and the governing board can be trusted to issue its treasury notes to the regional reserve banks on terms that will be fair and just.

The business interests will, I think, welcome this bill as an unalloyed blessing. It gives them through their banks a promise of relief in any time of stringency and it gives this promise without putting in the hands of the banks a power that might be used against them. The bill is a faithful fulfillment of the promise made in the Baltimore platform."

Law Is Constitutional.

The validity of the newspaper publicity law enacted in 1912 as a provision of the postal appropriation act was upheld by unanimous decision of the Supreme court of the United States. Chief Justice White announced the court's conclusions.

This law requires every newspaper, magazine or other publication to file semi-annually with the postmaster general and the local postmaster, sworn statements of the names of the editors, managers, owners, stockholders and bondholders, and, in the case of daily newspapers, of the average daily circulation. Publication of these statements is required, and for failure to comply with any of the provisions, the publication shall be denied the "privileges of the mails."

A second paragraph provides that paid-for editorial or reading matter of any "such" publication shall be marked "advertisement" under penalty of a fine or imprisonment.

Wrong In The Head.

The Paducah Sun, often right in many things, got its head-lines mixed up when it gave an account of the finding of the jury in the case of W. T. Tandy against the city of Hopkinsville for damages sustained by the night rider fire of 1907. The dispatch said that the finding of the jury was in favor of the defendant (Hopkinsville), but the head lines said that it was in favor of Tandy. The head writer of the Sun needs regulating these hot days.

Stanley is still saying to the senatorial aspirants, "Come on in, the water's fine."

Why cannot the women be enlisted in a world-wide movement to save the birds?

Guaranteed Eczema Remedy.

The constant itching, burning, redness, rash and disagreeable effects of eczema, tetter, salt rheum, itch, piles, and irritating skin eruptions can be readily cured and the skin made clear and smooth with Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment. Mr. J. C. Eveland, of Bath, Ill., says: "I had eczema twenty-five years and had tried everything. All failed. When I found Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment I found a cure." This ointment is the formula of a physician and has been in use for years—not an experiment. That is why we can guarantee it. All druggists, or by mail. Price 50c. Most Children Have Worms.

Many mothers think their children are suffering from indigestion, headache, nervousness, weakness, costiveness, when they are victims of that most common of all children's ailments—worms. Peevish, ill-tempered, fretful children, who toss and grind their teeth, with bad breath and colicky pains, have all the symptoms of having worms, and should be given Kickapoo Worm Killer, a pleasant candy lozenge, which expels worms, regulates the bowels, tones up the system, and makes children well and happy. Kickapoo Worm Killer is guaranteed. All druggists, or by mail. Price 25c. Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co., Philadelphia and St. Louis. advertisement.

PEOPLE OF THE CAMPAGNA
Suffer From Tyranny of Landlords and the Thoughtlessness of Pleasure Seekers.

We English abroad are perhaps too apt to think of the good we do by being there. "Our money," we say, looking at the shops in the Plaza di Spagna, and the huge gimcrack hotels, where, not long ago, ancient architectural gardens and vineyards lay out in the sun. And the consciousness of benefactors enjoying themselves makes us amiable. But we are not doing good so universally, as we suppose. The fox hunting on the Campagna, for example, writes a correspondent in Rome, is little less than disastrous to the difficult attempts at cultivation made by the poor people living half the year in their savage huts. They are very forlorn people, but they have a most intelligent hatred for the luxury as well as for the oppression of this most inconsiderate sport.

They have, however, no redress. How many English spectators of this vast old desert plain, with its aqueducts and its few shepherds, and its singing carter far apart—this famous solitude—know that it is property, that some five or six great landlords own it, and that the handful of scattered peasants are in their most eager pay? No land ever looked less suggestive of landlords, says a writer in the London Chronicle. The wretched people live in uninhabitable huts because stone houses are taxed, and the owners of this desert will not suffer a tax for their sake. It is too true that an Italian spending a holiday in Whitechapel might have some fault to find with the state of our London poor, but then Italians do not pay visits of pleasure to Whitechapel, and we do pay visits of pleasure to Rome; and we are born critics, anyway.

ANOTHER THING

"What did you mean by telling me that coal merchant was handing out his stock gratis?"
"I didn't say that. I said he was giving it a weigh."

CHICKEN THIEF'S QUERY.

District Attorney Whitman of New York, discussing certain vicious members of "the system," said: "These fellows are so corrupt that in the most innocent proposition they see corruption. They resemble old Wash White."
"There was once a missionary out west trying to educate the ignorant mountaineers, and he was lard put to it for a suitable schoolroom. He heard one day of an abandoned hen house that, being unusually roomy and light, would serve his turn. So he said to Wash White, an aged loafer:
"Wash, my good man, here's a dime for you, and I want you to go up this afternoon and clean out that old hen house behind McWade's barn."
"Old Wash, with a look of astonishment, pocketed the dime.
"But surely, boss," he said, "surely you wouldn't clean out a hen house in the daytime!"

GENIUS AND FAME.

Governor Sulzer defined genius in New York the other day as the development of the three faculties of observation, concentration and analysis.
"Genius," he added, smiling, "leads to fame, and what is fame's definition?"
"Well, fame may be defined as a device on the sordid world's part whereby a man is kept poor, and whereby at the same time his creditors are kept posted as to his whereabouts."
HE ALWAYS LAUGHS LAST.
"He laughs best who laughs last."
"Then what a hearty laugh the Englishman who is listening to the anecdote must get."

HAS GOOD AND BAD EFFECT

Result of Psychological Study of the Continuous Use of Caffeine on the Human System.

The influence of caffeine, the active principle of coffee, on mental and motor efficiency has been studied by the psychologists. The Journal of Philosophy, Psychology and Scientific Methods reviews the experiments on 16 subjects, ten men and six women, over a period of 40 days, reported by H. L. Hollingworth, including an intensive experiment of three days to study the effects of caffeine at close range and to determine their time relations; also a seven-day test with syrups. A cup of coffee contains about 2.5 grains of caffeine. Mr. Hollingworth finds the effect of small doses from one to four grains, to be stimulating, with no appreciable after effect; doses of six grains or more clogging of the mental faculties. Speed and quality of performance in typewriting seem to be improved with small doses of the caffeine alkaloid, from one to three grains, and to be unfavorably affected by larger doses of four to six grains. The effect begins in one to two hours when the drug is taken in a syrup, and from two to three hours when taken in capsule form. When taken in coffee it is believed that the effects of the caffeine may be somewhat neutralized by other ingredients. The effect of continuous use of the drug was not determined by these experiments.—New York Times.

REALLY A GREWSOME AFFAIR

Englishman Narrates a Somewhat Unpleasant Experience While Rhinoceros Hunting.

In the Nairobi club I met a gentleman with one arm gone at the shoulder. He told his story in a slightly bored and drawling voice, picking his words very carefully, and evidently most occupied with neither understating nor overstating the case. It seems he had been out, and had killed some sort of a buck, while his men were occupied with this he strolled on alone to see what he could find. He found a rhinoceros that charged viciously, and into which he emptied his gun.
"When I came to," he said, "it was just coming on dusk, and the lions were beginning to grunt. My arm was completely crushed, and I was badly bruised and knocked about. As near as I could remember I was fully ten miles from camp. A circle of carrion birds stood all about me not more than ten feet away; and a great many others were flapping over me and fighting in the air. These last were so close that I could feel the wind from their wings. It was rather growsome." He paused and thought a moment, as though weighing his words. "In fact," he added, with an air of final conviction, "it was quite growsome!"

CLUB FOR CHINESE WOMEN

New York Library Plans a Special Reading Room Where Orientalists May Learn English.

A club for Chinese women is about to be formed at the Chatham Square Public library. Miss Alison Baigrie, librarian, who is one of the few American women who is regarded as a friend by the cautious Chinese, has felt for some time that the women of Chinatown should learn more of American ways.

"A few of them come here to the library for books," she said, "but they never stay to read. They are afraid. It seems to me a great pity that when one adventuresome spirit has the courage to cross Chatham square and brave the men on the sidewalks to come here she might get something out of it. I want to teach her to speak English and to understand our ways."

Miss Baigrie has ordered one hundred new books from China and as soon as they come she is going to invite all her Chinese friends to a book feast in a private room, where they may forget their shyness and have such a good time they will want to come again soon. Miss Baigrie has discovered that the Chinese are especially fond of detective stories. She has ordered several volumes of "Sherlock Holmes," as well as "The Seven Swords and Thirteen Heroes." "The Story of the Stone" and other mystery tales from Jules Verne are also very popular, while books on Confucius gather dust on the shelves.—New York Tribune.

MAN SHOULD BE THE HUNTER

Women Are Always Supposed to Be the Quarry and Reluctant to Be Won.

Men from the beginning of time have liked to be the hunters; women are supposed to be the quarry. It is to the quarry's interest not to wish to do any hunting, not to care, till she is certain of the hunter, whether he pursues her or not. Such an attitude is not calculating; it is merely self-respecting and self-preservative. On such cautious advance towards love some of the happiest marriages are built. No romantic girl need fear that by crushing down a baseless emotion she will inhibit the real coming of love. If love is real, it makes a progress which is irresistible, however slow. On the other hand, if the romantic girl yields without restraint to baseless emotions, she not only weakens her will power, but she may injure her pride by showing herself too ready to receive love. A man is the happier for being sure he is well loved by his wife, but when love is just beginning its growth in his heart, he values the girl the more if he is shown that her response is too rare and high a thing to be accorded without strong suing on his part.—Maude Radford Warren, in Woman's World.

RECIPES.

Frappe Peach—Buy theater tickets, candy and flowers for another peach, and let the one to be frapped hear about it.
Angel Food—Five pounds of the most expensive bonbons; ice cream sodas (any number); salted nuts (as desired); a few sour pickles (if the angel is in love). Feed these ingredients slowly into a Cupid's bow mouth.
Stewed Hen—Select a fat, live hen and give her about four fingers of whisky. Serve in ten minutes.
Chocolate Drops—Take half a dozen pickaninies up in an aeroplane and spill them.
How to Put Hair on Any Head—Rub $25 carefully into a hair-goods store.
How to Can a Lobster—Lead him to the front door by the ear and hand him his hat. Or, if you prefer, call father before he takes off his boots.—Lippincott's.

TRULY LOYAL.

Have you ever had the privilege of knowing a really loyal man or woman—whom no price could buy, nurtured in purity and self-respect, with a keen sense of honor, untouched by rank, unmoved by wealth—who placed the big things first, and to whom the duties of life were the real things worth living for?
Such men or women are loyal in small things, careful in courtesy, lenient to others, hard to themselves. They rely on themselves and do not count the cost, and often reproach themselves bitterly with unmerited reproaches. They hold it to be their first duty to fulfill their daily allotted tasks.—Exchange.

Small Birds Are Often Two Miles High.

Observations Show That in Their Migrations They Travel From Africa to Helgoland at Rate of 180 Miles an Hour.

The great problem of how small birds were able to manage long flights from other countries exercised the minds of naturalists for centuries. The first man to collect accurate information on the subject was the late Herr Gatzke. Living on the little island of Helgoland, in the direct route of migration, and entirely devoted to his subject, he was able to verify for himself many facts which had until then escaped notice.

For instance, he pointed out that birds on migration often flew very high—probably as much as 12,000 feet (over two miles) above the ground. That they do fly at a great height has been corroborated by astronomers, who have seen birds flying across the face of the moon at a height of not less than one mile.

Gatzke's idea on speed were probably exaggerated, but only by a theory of a tremendous swift flight at a high altitude could he account for the fact that certain birds were never, or rarely, seen in the countries between their winter and summer quarters. For instance, he pointed out that the blue throat, which winters in Africa and breeds in Scandinavia, is but rarely met with in any of the countries on the line of route—Italy, Greece and southern Germany.

When they arrived at Helgoland they came in large flocks and were tired and exhausted; also they always arrived at the same hour—somewhat late in the morning. He thought it probable that they left Africa at dusk the previous evening, and by flying at the rate of 180 miles an hour would be able to reach Helgoland in the one flight.

Between 1860 and 1887 the British association granted some money to a special committee for the study of migration, and by means of schedules much information was collected about the birds that are killed annually at coast lights. Although many facts were thus obtained the observations in this respect are almost entirely dependent on weather conditions. In fact, it may be said that the only migration that can be actually seen is that which has partly failed, for it is only when delayed or held back by storms or fog that birds obviously on passage are encountered along the coast or in other places where they are not usually found.

In Denmark and Germany ornithologists have been experimenting by ringing birds and having those that are caught returned to the address given on the aluminum band placed on the bird's leg.

In this way the habits or migration, speed and direction of flight and other facts are discovered. Storms have given the most striking results from ringing. Without exception all storms that have been recovered in the first autumn after ringing had traveled in a due southeasterly direction.

From Hungary to Palestine no ringed birds have been procured, but from Palestine four have been returned, from Alexandria one, Blue Nile one, Victoria Nyanza one and no fewer than seven from the Transvaal, Natal, Basutoland, etc., while of the Hungarian storks (marked by the Hungarian office) no fewer than seventeen have been recorded from the various localities in South Africa. It is, therefore, practically certain that north German and Hungarian storks travel southeast to Palestine and thence due south to South Africa.

Miracle of Memory.

A petal fell from a rose in a bouquet which a delicate girl was carrying through the street and fluttered towards the ground, and just then the muddy boot of an old cleaner of the streets got in its way, and with the dew of its own life it attached itself to the humble covering of humble feet, and later when the man glanced down and saw it, he smiled at the incongruousness. And as he smiled, this crude and homely mind settled itself upon the dainty petal and with a passing breeze of fancy was borne away from the artificial grandeur of the city, across the fields and rivers and mountains, and while his feet still trod the stony street, his soul was in the little old-home cottage where his boyhood was spent, and he stood under the old rose bush which hung over the door, and he lifted up his arms and took great masses of bloom into their embrace, and buried his face in their glory, and the tired old man was a boy again. And yet they say there are no miracles today!—Universalist Leader.

About Candles.

Candles which have been frozen will burn longer than those which have not. If candles are too large for the sockets for which they are intended, hold the ends in hot water for about one-quarter of a minute, then press into the sockets of the candle-holders. If, however, the old method of cutting away the ends is employed, be sure the shavings are kept. They are excellent for cleaning the top of the range. When the stove is warm, sprinkle with candle shavings, and as they melt, rub the stove with a rag. The rag will absorb most of the wax, but enough will remain on the stove to keep it from rusting.

AT GREAT HEIGHTS

Baltimore, Md.—Mrs. W. H. Isom, at 1419 East Madison street, writes: "For several years, I suffered, off and on, from female troubles, until finally I was taken down and could do nothing. The pains I experienced I shall never forget. I lost weight till I was only skin and bones. I believe I would have been in my grave, if I had not tried Cardui. I shall praise it as long as I live." Many women, like Mrs. Isom, are weak and discouraged, on account of some painful ailment. Are you one of these sufferers? Cardui will help you. Try it today. Any druggist.

"That's a good start toward the presidency, my son. Fine basis for an anecdote. Now, what's the next step?"

"I hardly know. Shall I split it into rails, or work it up into golf clubs?"

PUZZLE.

"I was in a quandary this morning when Jinks told me he wanted assistance, as his wife was getting very light-headed."

"Why were you puzzled?"

"Because I didn't know whether she needed a doctor or a hair specialist."

Ulcers and Skin Troubles.

If you are suffering with any old, running or fever sores, ulcers, boils, eczema or other skin troubles, get a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve and you will get relief promptly. Mrs. Bruce Jones, of Birmingham, Ala., suffered from an ugly ulcer for nine months and Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured her in two weeks. Will help you. Only 25c. Recommended by all druggists.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear.
There is only one way to cure deafness,
and that is by constitutional remedies.
Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our sincere thanks for the many kindnesses shown us, and for the expressions of sympathy from our friends on the death of our little daughter. We shall always gratefully remember what our friends did for us in our sorrow.

MR. AND MRS. J. K. TWYMAN.

Lawrence Hord, of Memphis, came home Saturday for a visit to his mother, Mrs. Annie E. Hord.

of July 1912 with the following "Box Hundred."

When Lord Trodegard died the other day it was announced that only one officer who took part in the charge of the light brigade was still alive, Sir George Wombwell.

However, it transpires that there is another officer of the "hoble six hundred" still living, and his experience of that famous charge is probably more remarkable than that of any of his comrades, for he rode through the "valley of death" unarmed. This officer is Capt. Percy Smith, who, though eighty-four years of age, lives a hale and active life at Southampton, England.

He rode in the charge unarmed because he did not possess a sword-arm, having lost his right hand in a shooting accident prior to the outbreak of the Crimean war. However, the colonel of his regiment, the Thirteenth Hussars, accepted him for active service, and although all he could do was to lead his men on, he charged through the Russian guns and escaped with only a slight wound. He had an iron guard for his maimed arm, which had been presented to him by his brother officers, but it was lost on the morning of the Balaklava charge, and he rode without it.

NO PUBLIC CAREER FOR HER

Girl Had Graduated With Highest Honors, of Course, but Father Explains the Rest.

"So your daughter has graduated?" queried Green of Jones, as they met on the street.

"She has, sir—she has," was the proud reply.

"And with high honors, I hear?"

"The very highest, sir."

"Took a prize, did she?"

"The gold medal, sir—the only one offered."

"Well, as her father, you have a right to feel proud."

"So I think, sir—so I think. Yes, sir, I am a proud father. Good day,
sir."

"Good day. Oh, by the way, will your daughter take up art?"

"I hardly think so?"

"Begin a literary career?"

"I think not."

"Think of going on the stage?"

"Not at all."

"Being she is such a genius, I rather thought that—"

"You see, it's this way with Mollie," interrupted Jones—"she's engaged to Fred Stevens and will soon marry him, and as Fred only gets $9 a week you see—"

"Yes, I think I see."

"But with the highest honors, sir—gold medal and tremendous applause—and I'm a proud father, sir—a very proud father. I hope that my other daughter will do as well."

PIG'S CURLY BAROMETER.

Probably the last thing that one would expect to indicate changes in the weather is a pig's tail. However, according to the skipper of a Norwegian sailing ship, who usually has a porker or two on board, one could scarcely have a more reliable barometer.

When a disturbance is coming the tails of the pigs, usually kinky, straighten out and their ears droop.
With barometer reading between 29.90 and 30 the tails begin to forecast the approach of a trough of low pressure. When the reading gets below 29.50 the pigs seek cover and the storm is pretty certain to burst within five hours. But a high barometer puts a beautiful twist in the tails and the ears stand jauntily stiff and with a trifle of cant forward.

The navigators only have to watch the pigs to foretell what is about to happen and, should the ship's barometer meet with accident, the porkers might fill the place of the instrument admirably.

SHE KNEW HUBBY.

Miss Helen Ware contributed the following at a recent story telling bee:

A lady of color had caused the arrest of her husband for purloining
all her available assets on the eve of his departure for parts unknown.
He was haled into court.

"Is this story your wife tells me true?" questioned the judge.

"No, sah; No sah; jedge, I sholy am innocent. Why, jedge, I wouldn't steal nuthin'—not even a boss shoe," expostulated the prisoner.

"Ah guess that's right, jedge," put in the wife, "not less'n they was a boss nailed onto it."

Blind Man Easily Capable of Making His Way, Though His Eyesight Was Gone.

The most interesting competitor in a recent London poultry show was Capt. Pierson Webber, who while on service in India lost his eyesight. The searching questions in the two examination papers were dictated to Captain Webber; he took them down with a pin in Braille shorthand, and typed his answers on an ordinary typewriter. Part of the oral examination consisted of naming and commenting on the merits of twenty-five plates of various grains and meats which constitute poultry food, and here Captain Webber's sense of touch served him with complete fidelity.

Another ordeal was the naming of the breed and the ailment in each case of four live fowls, all of which were defective in one way or another. In two cases, by feeling the texture of the feathers, he was able to describe not only the breed but also the color of the fowls with perfect accuracy.

GREAT INVENTIONS RARE.

Invention to some extent resembles mining. Thousands of miners plod wearily through the mountains and valleys searching for precious metals or outcroppings of ore. One among thousands strikes the big bonanza. About 800 patents are issued every week by the United States patent office. Only one in many years is for something startlingly new and meaning millions of dollars to the inventor or the people who may gain control of it. Only about one inventor in every hundred secures a monetary return which will equal the cost of the invention and patent. Of the 40,000 or 50,000 patents issued every year there are few which are of such importance as to attract widespread attention, and only at long intervals is there an invention which revolutionizes conditions, such as the telegraph, telephone, the phonograph, typesetting machines, wireless telegraphy, aerial navigation, and moving pictures.—Arthur Wallace Dunn, in Leslie's.

SERVATION EXPOSITION IN KNOXVILLE, TENN.

IN the big Liberal Arts building of the National Conservation Exposition that will be held in Knoxville, Tenn., from September 1 to November 1 of the present year will be gathered together the most diversified, instructive and interesting lot of exhibits ever seen before in the South. The term "liberal arts" embraces much; so also will the exhibit in the Liberal Arts building embrace much. The National Conservation Exposition is an Exposition of Progress; it has broken away from old traditions; it has started out along new lines. Expositions in the past have been devoted mainly to recounting past glories, to celebrate the things that already have been accomplished. Not so the National Conservation Exposition. The Exposition planned by men of the South, carried forward by men of the South for the South in particular and the entire country in general, has a definite aim and object, and that is to teach conservation—the conservation of time and energy in the home, on the farm, in the factory and in the mines and also the conservation of what is best and most important of all, human life and health. The Exposition management already is assured of the fact that the Knoxville show will be the greatest ever seen in the South.

PLEASANT TIME FOR HUBBY

Chances Are That He Had Much to Explain After This Little Passage of Arms.

People are smiling at the little passage of arms which took place between two young women at a luncheon the other day. One of the women is a beautiful blonde, a bride, and she comes from Manchester. No matter who the other woman is, but the bride met her first at the aforesaid luncheon, and, shaking hands in her characteristically cordial way, said: "I'm so glad to meet you. You have afforded me so much amusement."

"Amusement?" said the other. "Oh, yes," went on the bride. "I've been through my husband's desk, and I've read all his old love letters. I found several very warm and affectionate letters from you, and I enjoyed reading them ever so much." "I'm so glad you enjoyed them," purred the other. "But do come and see me very soon. I have the answers to all those letters, and you might like to read them. Mr. X's letters are ever so much warmer and more affectionate than those I wrote him. I know you'll enjoy reading them ever so much more than you did mine."

THE THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION OF THE NEW YORK WORLD

Practically a Daily at the price of a Weekly.

No Other Newspaper in the World Gives So Much at So Low a Price.

This is a time of great events and you will want the news accurately and promptly. The Democrats, for the first time in sixteen years, will have the Presidency and they will also control both branches of Congress. The political news is sure to be of the most absorbing interest.

There is a great war in the Old World, and you may read of the extinction of the vast Turkish Empire in Europe, just as a few years ago you read how Spain lost her last foot of soil in America, after having ruled the empire of half the New World.

The World long since established a record for impartiality, and anybody can afford its Thrice-a-Week edition, which comes every other day in the week, except Sunday. It will be of particular value to you now. The Thrice-a-Week World also abounds in other strong features, serial stories, humor, markets, cartoons; in fact, everything that is to be found in a first class daily.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and the Hopkinsville Kentuckian together for one year for $2.65.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.00.

QUEEN MOTHER ALEXANDRA'S JUBILEE YEAR

This is the jubilee year of Queen Mother Alexandra of Great Britain.

It is just fifty years ago, that is to say, since she left her native land to be married to Albert Edward, Prince of Wales, afterwards Edward VII. of Great Britain and Ireland, and of the Dominions over the seas, and Emperor of India.

She was more than the royal spouse of a well loved prince, she was adopted into the nation forthwith, and because of her grace and charm became the pride of the British race, the type of matronly virtue and of queenly motherliness.

The poet-laureate Tennyson never spoke more surely and prophetically than when he addressed the bride of 1863 in his stately "Welcome to Alexandria".

"O joy to the people and joy to the throne, Come to us, love us and make us your own. For Saxon or Dane or Norman we, Teuton or Celt or whatever we be, We are each all Dane in our welcome of thee, Alexandria!"

As a bride the Princess Alexandra left her native land—the first Danish Princess to do so for such a purpose for quite a century—on the afternoon of February 28, 1863. It is recalled as an interesting coincidence that the engine which brought her train from Cologne to Brussels was named "The Blucher," and the engine-driver was called Wellington.

The crossing of the North Sea was accomplished in the old British royal yacht Victoria and Albert under the British flag, and with a fleet escort, every vessel in gala dress. Even the lanterns which illuminated the ships during the night hours had been arranged by gallant bluejackets so as to form a host of initial letters "A."

It was about eight o'clock on the morning of March 7 that the yacht entered British waters to the booming of guns in Margate Roads, and a few hours later the representatives of the elvish life of Margate presented the first address of welcome, going out to the Victoria and Albert by boat in their eagerness to be absolutely first.

Sheerness and Southend were next favored, and "the sea was covered with pleasure boats filled with people eager to catch a first glimpse of her," writes an authority. The writer adds that amid the voluminous cheers at Gravesend, "the Princess, standing on deck in a simple white frock, was seen to cling with a startled look to her mother's arm."

The Prince of Wales (King Edward) was as eager as his future subjects to greet his bride, and also sailed out in his yacht to intercept the ship. Again to quote:

"As he approached the door of the saloon the Princess advanced to meet him, and the lovers' kiss which passed between them left nothing to be desired. The British public was hugely delighted and more than satisfied."

MRS. REDFIELD'S ECONOMIC IDEAS STRONG

It is conceded that the present Washington administration will be an administration where abundant entertaining will be in order, but all of it planned to the satisfaction of those concerned.

However, the various members of the boudoir cabinet regard present-day conditions socially and in other ways of deep concern, their views always command attention. Mrs. Redfield, wife of the secretary of commerce, is conservative in her expressions, but she has given all vital topics much thought and she knows whereof she speaks.

"There has been much discussion recently," said Mrs. Redfield the other day, "about how much money spent annually for dress and incidental expenses constitutes extravagance or economy. To me it seems that so many aspects must be considered in the matter that it is impossible to come to any satisfactory or intelligent conclusion. For one person several thousands a year might seem small and inadequate, and to others a few hundreds would mean a sacrifice of more durable things in the home. But one thing does stand out clearly, that American women as a whole must plead guilty of the charge of extravagance and to setting a very poor example to those who follow them as guides. I will not place the whole burden of the present-day high prices on woman's shoulders, but she has contributed a large share. Returning to the subject of dress, why should American women join the ranks of those who preen their feathers all day and have no more serious occupation than to display their plumage? We have so much to do which is of vast importance now and for the future that this devotion to the mere matter of attire looks like a willful waste of precious time. I am a firm believer in everyone presenting as good an appearance as possible at home and abroad. I take great pride in the reputation which the American woman has for being neat, stylish and charming to the eye. Especially do the splendid-looking women and girls in my home city and in New York and thereabouts fill me with admiration. What I protest against is that foolish idea which so many have about the latest cry from Paris, to use the modish term. That silly feeling about appearing twice in the same gown or wearing any robe, no matter how elegant or becoming, because perhaps the sleeves show a line not in accordance with the Paris fashion book or the train shows a divergence from what constitutes elegance on Rue de la Paix."

DUCHESS OF ROXBURGHE TO ENTERTAIN KING

King George and Queen Mary will give another proof of their friendship for the duke and duchess of Roxburghe in June.

Their majesties will attend a ball which the duchess, who was Miss May Goellet of New York, will give at Chesterfield house, the famous home of the Chesterfields, which the Roxburghe has rented from Lady Bur-ghe in June. The dinner the duchess gave to their majesties last year was one of the events of the season. It was almost impromptu, but the duchess, full of resourcefulness and energy, made it the most brilliant dinner party of the year.

Now she will be hostess to the sovereigns at her dance. Chesterfield house, one of the finest mansions in London, offers a fit setting for such a function. The huge ballroom, which on state occasions is enlarged by throwing two large drawing-rooms into one, contains a fortune in fine paintings.

The present king's admiration for the duchess is inherited. She and her husband entertained King Edward at Floors castle, the duke's ancestral seat in the south of Scotland. At that time $600,000 was spent, it was said, in transforming that ancient establishment into a modern house.

LEADS FIGHT FOR SUFFRAGE IN BULGARIA

Notwithstanding the war clouds which hang heavily on the Balkans, the women of that region, more particularly in Bulgaria and Serbia, are waging an active campaign for equal suffrage.

The Women's Emancipation Union of Bulgaria has a strong membership and has become affiliated with the international suffrage movement. The women of the kingdom have the right to vote in school management, but they are not satisfied with this and demand full political equality before the law. They have petitioned Queen

Eleanora to use her influence in their behalf.

In Serbia the women are even better organized than in Bulgaria. One of their greatest leaders is Mme. Marie Gruyitch, the widow of a wealthy agriculturist, who died a few years ago. On the death of her husband she gave half her property to the Women's Suffrage League and she is now busily engaged in directing a campaign in the interests of woman suffrage. She is making an appeal to the public on the ground of patriotism. In the present war 42 women have shouldered rifles and fought by the sides of husbands and sweethearts, thus proving their equality with men. Two of them were killed in battle. Mme. Gruyitch has kindled a good deal of enthusiasm in her patriotic appeal on behalf of her sex.

Then He Hushed Up.
"How did you happen to get that black eye?"
"By doing the same thing you are doing now."
"What is that?"
"Asking impertinent questions."

Expected.
"Are your father and mother in Bobbie?"
"No."
"Then can I see your sister?"
"Not in. She expected you, too."—Life.

Made His Blessing Retroactive.
The father of a family who had been striving to bring up his children in the way they should go was very much annoyed at his son's uncouth habit of helping himself to a few bites before grace had been said. The stereotyped form called for: "A blessing on what we are about to eat," but one occasion being particularly exasperating, he astounded the young man by adding to his petition, "and on that which has already been eaten."

TWO FINE DISHES OF VEAL

Best Methods of Preparing Meat That Requires Particular Care in Its Preparation.

Curried Veal, Indian.—Cut about two pounds of lean, raw veal into pieces, place in a saucepan, cover with warm water, and season with two pinches of salt and a pinch of pepper.
Add a garnished bouquet and half a dozen small onions and cook the whole for twenty-five minutes. Prepare a gill of white roux in a saucepan, moisten it with the liquor from the veal, stir well, and add one teaspoonful of moistened curry and three raw yolks of eggs, beating them up as they are put in. Place the veal on a hot dish, strain the roux over it immediately, as it must not cook again, garnish with a border of boiled rice, and serve at once.

Veal Cutlets, Lyonnaise.—Trim the cutlets and dust them on both sides with salt and pepper. Place a lump of lard in a stewpan and when it has melted put in the cutlets and fry over a brisk fire till done on both sides.
Drain the fat out of the stewpan, and pour over the cutlets one-half tea-cupful of rich broth and boil it quickly until reduced to a glaze. Turn the cutlets, pour in the same quantity of broth as before, and reduce that to a glaze. Now arrange the cutlets in a circle on a hot dish. Pour into the stewpan in which they were cooked one-half pint of brown sauce and one teacupful of Madeira wine; boil and then add one teacupful of chopped gherkins, two or three table-spoonfuls of chopped parsley and a small piece of butter. When the butter has dissolved pour the sauce over the veal and serve immediately.

TO BE USED IN MODERATION

Garlic Too Strong a Seasoning Unless the Utmost Care Is Employed in the Cooking.

Garlic is a bulbous plant formed with a thin husk containing several bulbs known as cloves. This condiment is little appreciated by people of the north, who consider it rather as a medicine than an aliment.

Some have the firm conviction that garlic is a powerful preservative against fevers and contagious diseases, but it is suspected that they have invented this pretext to excuse their immoderate liking for this terrible condiment. A small crust of bread on which a clove of garlic has been rubbed is sufficient to flavor the contents of a large salad bowl. The garlic genus comprises the plants known as garlic, leek, onion, chives
and shallots.

Turkish Croquettes.
Chop a pound of veal fine, grate
white bread to the amount of one cupful with it, and mix the whole together with an equal amount of minced ham and half a cupful of chopped chicken if the latter is convenient—it is not absolutely necessary. Season well with pepper and salt and "bind" it with two table-spoonfuls of rich gravy and two beaten eggs. Butter a mold and line it with macaroni that has been previously boiled and then turn the veal mixture into it, pressing it well down. Place the mold in a dish with boiling water within an inch of its top and steam for half an hour.
Remove and turn out of the mold on to a hot platter and pour over it any rich gravy.

Coffee Caramel Frosting.
When making a caramel frosting coffee is sometimes used instead of water. It imparts a unique flavor. Brown two table-spoonfuls of granulated sugar and when a reddish brown color is burned, add three table-spoonfuls of boiling hot coffee. The mixture will be very hot, or the coffee will turn to candy. Never pour the hot coffee or lukewarm liquid over the sugar in a pan. When the boiling hot coffee has dissolved the caramel, pour the mixture into powdered sugar and stir it constantly to a smooth paste, such as would be easily spread over a cake without "running."

Broiled Chops.
Few meats are more generally relished for breakfast than well-broiled chops and potatoes fried in deep fat to a delicate brown. Rib chops can be nicely broiled by scraping the long bone of each one until entirely denuded of fat and meat. There are many who prefer loin chops. These simply need the trimming off of superfluous fat. The broiler is rubbed with a bit of fat, the chops arranged in it and cooked over a clear, very hot fire.
It is best to season them when half done.

Maraschino Cheese.
Whip a pint and a half of cream to a thick froth and mix with it a little gelatin dissolved in hot water, the strained juice of a lemon, and three wine glassfuls of maraschino. Stir this mixture over ice until well mixed and at the point of freezing (or mix in a freezer), then turn out into a mold and pack in ice till quite firm. When ready to serve dip the mold in tepid water, wipe and turn the cheese on to a fancy dish.

Cold Meat and Potato Salad.
Cut a pound of cold cooked meat into thin slices and then into small squares and mix with a pint of cold chopped potatoes. Put a layer of this at the bottom of the salad bowl, cover with chopped parsley and salad dressing, put in another layer of the meat mixture and again the salad dressing, and continue till all the material is used. Place the bowl in the refrigerator for two hours or so and the salad is ready for use.

Might Be Dead Today.

Garden City, Kas.—In a letter from Mrs. James Hammer, of this city, she says: "I firmly believe that I would not be alive today, if it were not for Cardui. I had been a sufferer from womanly troubles all my life, until I found that great remedy. I feel that I can't praise it too highly." Are you a woman suffering from some of the troubles, to which a woman is peculiarly liable?
If so, why not try Cardui, the woman's tonic? You can rely on Cardui. It is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, and acts gently but surely, without bad after-effects.
'Twill help you. Ask your druggist.

Not Her Hero.

"I suppose you are proud of your wife's literary success?" said the intimate friend. "Yes," replied Mr. Stubbs.
"Only I wish she wouldn't insist on making the hero of every novel a tall, athletic young man, with wavy hair and piercing blue eyes. Anybody can see that I am short, fat, bald, and compelled to wear specs."—The Pathfind-

WORTH KEEPING IN MEMORY

Some Helpful Suggestions That Will Have a Tendency to Add to Comfort of Home.

To keep a glass or cup from bursting when any boiling mixture is put in, try putting a silver spoon in it and pouring the mixture on it; that generally keeps the glass from cracking or breaking.

When lace curtains become old there is always danger of their being torn in washing. This can positively be avoided if the curtains are handled lengthwise, not crosswise. Never attempt to handle a curtain from the side edge. Try it and be convinced.
Many who have old curtains which they wish to preserve because of their beautiful patterns will rejoice at having made the attempt. This is simple, but valuable.

Avoid trying to light matches on walls, window casings and so on. For a couple of cents purchase a sheet or so of sandpaper and some little brass-headed tacks. Tack one of these in each room directly under the gas jet.
Anyone troubled with rats or mice can get rid of them very quickly if they will sprinkle pepper on a cloth and stuff this into the hole where they appear.

An easy way to keep your kitchen cupboard neat and tidy is to take your cereals, coffee, sugar, in fact all of your staple goods, directly they come from the store and place them in glass jars, so that when your cupboard door is opened you can place your hands on any article wanted at once without upsetting shelves and scattering things around. You have no idea how nice it looks to see everything shining through glass jars and how much extra work it saves you hunting for articles.

APPLE, CHEESE TURNOVERS

Delicacy That May Be a Novelty, and in Any Event Is Sure to Please.

Make a crust using six heaping
table-spoonfuls of flour, three tablespoonfuls of lard and butter, half and half, and salt-spoonful of salt and just enough water to roll out. Have ready some nice tart apples sliced fine, and also cheese sliced very thin. Fill each one with apples, sprinkle sugar and cinnamon over the apple, put a tiny piece of butter on top, then turn up the edges of the crust, overlapping the upper side about two inches. Wet the edges of the crust with milk, bake
a nice brown. Remove from the oven, raise the upper crust, put in the cheese, recover, turn a tin over the turnovers and stand in the oven again for ten minutes, leaving the oven door open. This softens the cheese. Eat while warm. Caraway seed may be used instead of cinnamon if desired.
The turnovers may be eaten plain with cream or with a liquid sauce as preferred.

Geneva Pudding.

Heat four cups of milk in a double boiler, stir in seven-eighths cup of corn meal and, when smooth, add three cups of coarsely chopped, pared sweet apples, one-half cup of molasses,
one-half cup of sugar and one-quarter level teaspoon of salt. Mix all well together, add four more cups of milk, which need not be heated, and pour into a large buttered pudding dish or into a kettle or pan of the fireless cooker, which must be buttered the same as a baking dish. Set in a moderate oven for four hours or in the cooker for eight or ten hours.

Baked Hash.

One and a quarter pounds of shoulder or neck of mutton; lean as you can get it. Cover with boiling water and cook tender. Remove the bones and gristle and chop meat very fine.
Add three boiled and creamed potatoes, a table-spoonful salt, pepper to taste, table-spoon of parsley minced
very fine, and a few drops of onion juice. Mix all together and turn into a baking dish. Pour over it a tablespoonful of milk. Add fine breadcrumbs mixed with melted butter, and bake a nice brown—about twenty minutes. Serve from same dish.

Keep Lace Fresh.

White lace should never be put away without first being cleaned and repaired. It should then be laid in a box lined with blue tissue paper, and sprinkled all over with a little powdered magnesia, the paper being then wrapped round the lace so that it is completely protected from the air.
When the lace is again required the magnesia can easily be shaken out.

Onion With Duck.

Many people dislike the taste of wild duck, but by boiling ducks in water enough to cover, with one good sized onion and a pinch of baking soda, until onion is tender, that strong taste will vanish. Then your duck is ready to bake, or, if jointed, drain a few minutes, roll in flour and fry in hot fat until a nice brown.

Ham Sandwiches.

Ham should always be finely chopped when used for sandwich filling, as this chopping frees the meat from all gristle. To a cup of chopped ham add a table-spoonful of mustard, a dash of cayenne pepper and thick cream.
Melted butter until the ham is easily spread between thin buttered white bread.

Using Spinach Dye.

Wash a handful of young spinach leaves, pound them in a mortar; put the bruised leaves into mullin and squeeze out as much juice as required; use sparingly until desired shade is obtained.

The first game between Hopkinsville and Paducah Tuesday was a brilliant game and the attendance was about 400, showing a considerable increase. The Moguls made one score in the second and another in the third inning and there was nothing doing on either side until the eighth inning when Smith dropped a ball at second that resulted in full bases and two scores for Paducah, tying the game. In the ninth a passed ball at first let in a score by Dummy Hughes, that won the game for Hopkinsville 3 to 2. The score was

After the closing game with Paducah today, the Moguls will play three games with Cairo. There will be a double-header tomorrow, the first game called at 2:15. The extra game is a postponed one. The Moguls will go to Cairo Sunday for four games.

Senter Reiney has quit Clarksville and gone to Cairo as manager, succeeding John Nairn.

Paducah has sold Pitcher Teague to Cleveland for $1,500.

A Silent Conversation.

A line-up of about fifteen ball players and fans was noticeable in front of the Opera House yesterday morning. The passersby couldn't understand why nobody was talking. Things looked like a funeral must have been on hand as everything was as quiet as a graveyard. Everybody seemed interested in something and that something was a conversation between Hughes, the deaf mute, who has just joined the Moguls and at first base is going to help the club win the pennant, and Parker McComb, the colored deaf mute, who had both legs cut off by a locomotive several years ago. Word-spelling by fingers was more interesting to the spectators, probably, than to the principals.

Gunn House Gone.

There is hardly a sign of the Gunn house, on East Ninth street remaining. Everything but the stone foundation has been removed and that will be out of the way in a day or two. Mr. P. K. Redd, who bought the building, will use the material for building three cottages on East 22d street. Assistant Postmaster Brethitt said yesterday that the order from the department was to have everything cleared by the 15th of July, but he did not think the shade trees would be cut down.

Bob Taylor Lives,

In the two bright and beautiful books just issued, "Lectures and Best Literary Productions," and "Life and Career" of Senator Robert Love Taylor, handsomely illustrated, you cannot hear again his voice or see the humorous curl of his lips, that convulsed a continent with laughter, but, within the covers of these volumes, are the pictures woven of his wondrous words, and, laughing through their sunny pages, are all of the inimitable stories which he told to the multitudes. In "Life and Career," pens of genius have traced his romantic life from its morning in "Happy Valley," through his young and roseate dreams through stress and storm, through cheering throngs, and on into the waiting shadows, loved and laurel crowned.
